

Shipping

Shipping and courier services are crucial to many businesses, but are those service fees adding up?

Our consultants are experts in ensuring those costs are as low as possible.

Most shipping and courier clients are billed weekly rather than monthly. Do you have the time each week to ensure...

- › The correct discounts were applied based on the weight/size/service level of the shipment?
- › Guaranteed service commitments were met?
- › Residential surcharges and address correction charges were valid?

We do. We have the time, tools and experience to meticulously monitor these – and other – areas, ensuring they aren't costing you more than they should.

We find many businesses are overpaying for things like daily pickups, residential, delivery area, and additional handling charges. Also, they're often unaware of the impact that minimum net rates and dimensional divisors can have to their costs.

We Put Money Back in Your Pocket So You Can:

Add to Your Bottom Line

Hire Additional Staff

Upgrade Your Facility

We are powered by Schooley Mitchell, the largest independent cost reduction consulting company in North America.